Art Adventures in Nature

Explore the wonders of nature through an artist's eye! We'll let nature lovers such as Georgia O'Keefe, Claude Monet and Andy Goldsworthy inspire our artistic endeavors as we create our own interpretations of the natural world at Croydon Creek. Camp will include the use of different art mediums, photography, hikes, discussions, hands-on-activities, videos, a visit to a local art exhibit and lots of outdoor adventuring! No art experience necessary. Available: ❄️

Celebrate America Camp

Take a memorable tour of the nation's capital! We will take in as many behind the scenes programs as we can. Last year's highlights included the White House, a tour of the Washington Monument and a tour of the newly opened American Indian Museum. This year we are planning our own private tour of the Capitol (see where a bill becomes a law), the National Zoo (hopefully, we can work some magic involving a very small black and white bear), the Bureau of Printing and Engraving (money, money, money...) and more! We will travel by van daily. Available: ❄️

Endangered Species Camp

Tai Shan at the National Zoo is all the craze and as a panda is an international symbol of the perils of extinction, but what about the animals and plants in your own backyard? Through field trips we'll search for Delmarva fox squirrels, eagles, green salamanders, white trout lily and other endangered species. Available: ❄️

The Nature of the Underground Railroad

The road to freedom was a long and dangerous one for slaves. Astronomy, edible plants, dyes and orienteering were just a few skills they had to learn along the way. Through trips and hikes to historic locations in and around Rockville see how slaves used these skills to escape. Songs and stories of the period, quilting and much more are planned. Available: ❄

Summer Camp

rockin' rewards

Rockin' Rewards are Here!

Earn one Rockin' Reward point for every dollar that you spend on Camp registration. Then you and the members of your household can use the points you earn to pay for programs offered by the City of Rockville Department of Recreation.

How do Rockin' Rewards work?

- Every person in our Rock Enroll database already is registered in this rewards program. (To be entered into the database, see page 20.)
- When you or a member of your family registers for a camp or class or purchases a membership, your family account will be credited 1 point for every $1.00 that you spend. So if you register for a $64.00 program, you will receive 64 points. It's that easy!
- Double your points when you enroll in a summer camp with the Step Up To Health logo. You automatically will earn 2 points for every $1.00 that you spend. That's double the reward!
- Points will be added to your account two weeks after the start of the next registration period. Once you generate at least 800 points, you may start using these points to pay for programs or memberships. Anyone in your family can use the points. It doesn't have to be the same person who earned them.
- To find out how many points your family account has, just stop by or phone one of our recreation centers. Note: When you pay for programs and membership dues using points, you must have all the points you need in full. We cannot accept payment from a mixture of points and cash/check.
- When you are ready to pay for a course or membership with points, just visit any of our recreation centers or City Hall or you can mail/fax in your registration. Note: Unfortunately paying with points is not an option if you register online or by telephone.

Rockin' Rewards—Our way of saying 'THANKYOU!' for Getting Up, Getting Out and Getting Active with the City of Rockville's Recreation and Parks Department.

What is Step Up To Health?

It is a nationwide campaign initiated by the Center for Disease Control and the National Recreation and Parks Association. The goal is to encourage people of all ages to adopt a healthier lifestyle.

It's easy! Just get up and get moving! Do it on your own or take part in one of the many Step up to Health programs (designated with the SUTH logo) offered through the City of Rockville. Double your Rockin' Rewards points when you register for a specially marked SUTH program. Take part in our newest program called WALK Rockville—it's easy, convenient, and free. And there's no need to register unless you choose to purchase a walking starter kit or wish to submit your steps/miles walked as part of our community-wide challenge.

Walk Rockville Starter Kit

If you would like to use a pedometer to track your steps or miles, the City or Rockville Department of Recreation and Parks is offering a starter kit that includes a pedometer, a Step Up To Health T-shirt, maps, walk-o-meter form/daily logs, and important fitness information about the Walk Rockville program. The kit costs $10. Available at City Hall, Twinbrook Community Recreation Center, Lincoln Park Community Center, Rockville Municipal Swim Center and Rockville Senior Center.
